Headline:
Frequent grouped showers overnight, some heavy.

This Evening and Tonight:
This evening will see cloud build, with showers starting to develop. These isolated at first, but becoming more organised into the night, falling heavy at times. Turning dry, briefly, in southernmost areas towards dawn. Winds remaining light, but feeling cold. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Saturday:
Initially dry in southernmost areas, before more showers approach. Elsewhere, showers from overnight continue, though turning more scattered, allowing for some dry spells. Cloudy throughout, with conditions easing slightly overnight. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Remaining unsettled, with showers and sunny spells through this period. Sunday and Monday seeing the heaviest showers, with a risk of thunder. Drier on Tuesday, with less frequent showers.
